“Helping People with Special Needs”

New vests are now available for the Campaign for People with Intellectual Disabilities (CPID) through the Supreme website. Councils are encouraged to buy the new vests but may continue to use the old-style yellow and red aprons or blue vests.

The new vest features two large pockets on the front as well as the new slogan for the campaign – “Helping People with Special Needs”. The new slogan strives to promote all the tremendous work done with the CPID, while also being an option for other related programs such as “Special Olympics”, “Mass for People with Special Needs” or any program/initiative intended for Helping People with Special Needs! Please note, this new slogan does not replace the official name of the initiative – “Campaign for People with Intellectual Disabilities”.

The new vests can be purchased on knightsgear.com and searching for CPID. Here you will be able to select the size and quantity of vests you would like to order.

Thank you for all the hard work and time that you, your councils and Brother Knights have and continue to dedicate to Helping People with Special Needs!
